Legacy funding keeps Lord of the Flies' young performers dancing

The young cast of Matthew Bourne's Lord of the Flies in rehearsal in 2014.

During the Easter holidays at the beginning of April, the young cast who performed in Matthew Bourne's Lord of the Flies in October 2014 participated in a skills workshop led by dance company Zeebathon as part of the production's legacy programme. The 22-strong cast, aged 11 to 22, were selected from 950 and admitted applicants in Chislehurst at The Peacock in February. This month, the programme continued with a weekend focused on dance company Rambert. The group attended a matinee performance of the company's triple bill Dark America/Flamou/Four Elements. They took part in a pre-show talk with Rambert's Artistic Director Mark Baldwin, Music Director Paul Hawkins and composer Gavin Higgins, as well as a post-show Q&A session led by Liam Mowat, company dancer and rehearsal director. The young dancers also visited Rambert's studios in central London, where they were given a tour of the building and took part in a three-hour workshop led by former company dancer Eryk Brahmanis.

A Royal Visit to the Instituto Cervantes

Queen Sofia of Spain came to London Cervantes Institute during an official visit on 18th April. The Queen was greeted by the Chairman of the British-Spanish Society (BSSS) James Harris (see below), among the visitors.

During the event, which was attended by representatives of British and Spanish cultures, the Spanish ambassador Mrs Eugenia Patricia Figuera paid tribute to the Society's rich literary collection, and the importance of British and Spanish 'as the world's most successful languages'. Queen Sofia visited to topics presented by Figuera.

The Spanish Chamber of Commerce welcomes the new season

The Spanish Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain offers Spanish and British companies the opportunity to present themselves commercially in both markets. Currently the Spanish Chamber of Commerce has more than 100 members. It has a bank of a testimony of the activities and events the Chamber has developed and has planned for the first semester of a promising 2014.

On 1st January the Spanish Chamber organized a New Year's Welcome Dinner at the 1811 Palladium Hotel in London at the opening of the events season. The dinner was presided by the Ambassador of Spain, Sr. Federico Delgado Figuera and James Harris (see below), Secretary General of the Chamber, as the special guest of honour. This year the Chamber wanted to reward the companies that have been supporting the initiative for more than 10 years in Great Britain. Congratulations to: Arquitectura de Interiors, Thoria, Emma Ltd, MacAndrews & Co Ltd, Producers from Spain Ltd, Builders Ltd and Victoria Trading Ltd.

One of the highlights of the season has undoubtedly been the launch of the CIBAC in March. The Council of Inter American Companies is a project that has developed since its creation and which the Spanish Chamber has had an active role. The CIBAC has been conceived as the support network available to British-based companies seeking to do business or expand into the Latin American and Spanish markets.

During the formal dinner held at the Spanish Chamber which celebrated a Spanish company in the UK whose performance in the last year has been outstanding, guests have participated in 18th. Acts Acropolis in the leading world company operation as per number of passengers and has been awarded a top forward with the signature of James Harris.

At the end of March the Chamber held its formal dinner' Dinner which was hosted this year by James Harris with a special invitation, members of the Chamber. The event drew a large number of guests and the restaurant was at near full capacity in 2013, less than one year after its opening.

The Spanish Chamber is very grateful to its members and partners for their continuous support to meet all the different activities and for the new events come to the next months. The Annual General Meeting of the Chamber will take place at the House of Lords on 18th. Chairwoman Mrs Eugenia Patricia Figuera will be addressing the significant role with the members of the Spanish Chamber and other high level representatives of Spanish companies.

Finally, we don't want to miss the opportunity to announce that the BSSS will continue to offer its members the opportunity to meet from face-to-face, in combination and companies interested in taking part in this successful initiative can do so.
